Uptown Kitchen to open second location at Heritage Square

(Mishawaka, Ind.) – Visitors to Heritage Square will soon be able to enjoy breakfast, lunch and dinner when Uptown Kitchen, a part of the Clean Plate Club family of restaurants, opens in January of 2011. The new restaurant, which features a wide selection of great tasting foods prepared with the highest quality ingredients, will be the third Clean Plate Club restaurant in the area.

The original Uptown Kitchen is celebrating its third anniversary at its location in Grainger and, most recently, The Mark Dine & Tap opened in the new Eddy Street Commons project next to Notre Dame University. According to their website, The Clean Plate Club Inc. is committed to upholding the maximum standards of hospitality, fresh food, customer service and atmosphere while staying true to their slogan, Eat Well. Drink well. Be happy.

“I think Uptown Kitchen will be a great fit for Heritage Square; they are the most popular breakfast place in our area and this new location is allowing them to expand in size while adding dinner and a full bar with the acquisition of our three-way liquor license,” Matt Creviston, Director of Leasing for Holladay Properties, said.

Holladay had been working with representatives from The Clean Plate Club since February; seven months of effort came to fruition when the lease was signed in September. Uptown Kitchen will occupy approximately 5,064 square feet across from Gino’s East near Totally Birkenstock in the shopping center.
